

CFS™ closely aligned to factors identified in 20 outstanding schools

OFSTED published 'Twenty outstanding primary schools - Excelling against the odds' (HMI 090170), on 2nd October 2009.

Why are they so successful? This list identifies the reasons and we can see just how CFS™ fits into every single one!

- They provide affection, stability and a purposeful and structured experience.
- They build – and often rebuild – children's self-belief.
- They teach children the things they really need to know and show them how to learn for themselves and with others.
- They give them opportunities, responsibility and trust in an environment which is both stimulating and humanising.
- They listen to their pupils, value their views and reflect and act on what they say. They build bridges with parents, families and communities, working in partnership with other professionals.
- They ensure their pupils progress as fast as possible and achieve as much as possible (outperforming both similar schools and many with fewer challenges).
- In short, they put the child at the centre of everything they do, and high aspirations, expectations and achievement underpin the schools' work.
